Joshua Dalton's provocative debut is a darkly comic collection of fiction and fragments about mental illness, television satire, social media emptiness, workplace trauma, and dating in the age of "why won't they text me back?" I HATE YOU, PLEASE READ ME is a bold, sad and LOL funny literary meditation for fans of David Sedaris, Rachel Bloom, Melissa Broder and Samantha Irby. // "[This book] offers an honest and aching voice, steeped in absurdity. It drew from me loud, painful laughter that scared my dog." - Jennifer Wortman, author of This. This. This. Is. Love. Love. Love. She was everything I wasn't- everything I didn't want to be. A reminder that from the moment I was born, I was the outcast. The rebel. I went against everything that was expected of me and created a life on my terms. I built my own empire, carved out my own destiny. Then she shows up at my tattoo studio, representing everything I tried to escape. She expects to just fit in... like she ever could. Tabitha Anderson. The posh girl trying to prove everyone wrong... that she can be something else- someone else. She hates me because she knows I'm right. Or so I think. Turns out this isn't the first time we've met, and our hate has history. We have history. I might not have remembered, but I damn sure won't forget now. Won't forget how her smile is always directed at everyone but me. If everything changes and she proves she does fit in, will it still be hate I'm feeling or something else entirely? And if I'm wrong, then she's right where she belongs... with me. Dear Reader, Zach's story is finally here! unforgettably funny enemies-to-lovers romcom starring: a grumpy dog show judge a determined former beauty queen and a Golden Retriever more interested in stealing bacon than winning Best in Show. Ruby Taylor gave up pageant life the day she turned eighteen and figured she'd never look back. But when an old friend begs her to show beloved Golden Retriever Weezy at the upcoming Canine Classic, Ruby doggedly straps on her heels and gets to work. If only she knew exactly what the adorably lazy lump of a dog was getting her into. If there's one thing veterinarian Spencer Wilson knows in this world, it's dogs. Human beings are a different story. Especially gorgeous women clearly in way over their heads. As judge for the local dog show, Spencer advises Ruby to quit while she still can, but her old fervor for winning has returned—and she wants to show the stern, broody-eyed judge that she's more than just a pretty face. In the end, she'll show him who's best in show. "AS APPEALING AS A PUPPY."—Publishers Weekly STARRED for Puppy Christmas

BookCaps Study Guides I hate you, Fuller James. I hate your floppy hair and your lopsided grin and those laughing blue eyes that always seem to be laughing at me. I hate that you're the most popular guy in school and I'm still the girl who sneezed and spit out her retainer on someone at a middle school dance. It's just such a cliché. I hate that I'm being forced to tutor you in English and keep it a secret from everyone. Because otherwise it might put our basketball team's chances at winning State in jeopardy, and even though I hate you, I love basketball. I hate that it seems like you're keeping a secret from me...and that the more time we spend together, the less I feel like I'm on solid ground. Because I'm starting to realize there's so much more to you than meets the eye. Underneath it all, you're real. But what I hate most is that I really don't hate you at all.

Within these pages wait violent fights, disease, death, controversy, sexuality, tragedy and crime. This journal documents a hateful young man's path to darkness. Many events that occur are based on real events. You will find many moments from the authors own life sewn into the life of Arthur Gale. You can only go so far before all hope of return is lost; this book reaches that point, and goes even farther. James represented the light, Arthur is the dark. There is no hero. There is only Arthur.

 Sixteen-year-old Starr Carter moves between two worlds: the poor neighborhood where she lives and the fancy suburban prep school she attends. The uneasy balance between these worlds is shattered when Starr witnesses the fatal shooting of her childhood best friend Khalil at the hands of a police officer. Khalil was unarmed. Soon afterward, his death is a national headline. Some are calling him a thug, maybe even a drug dealer and a gangbanger. Protesters are taking to the streets in Khalil's name. Some cops and the local drug lord try to intimidate Starr and her family. What everyone wants to know is: what really went down that night? And the only person alive who can answer that is Starr. But what Starr does—or does not—say could upend her community. It could also endanger her life. Want more of Garden Heights? I seduced her to close the deal. Now I refuse to ever let her go. I'm Sebastian Shaw—CFO, pragmatist, and dealmaker. The only thing I've ever mismanaged is love, but a decade in business has proven I can successfully negotiate with anyone...except the irrationally stubborn O'Neills. After their patriarch's sudden retirement, I find myself sparring long-distance over a make-or-break merger with his youngest daughter, Sloan. She's a ball-busting piece of work. Thankfully, I have skills, an hourglass-shaped stranger I recently met to relieve my stress, and a killer plan to take down my rival. Then I realize the gorgeous distraction in my bed is Sloan. Worse, I'm falling for her. Suddenly, everything from my objectives to my morals is cloudy. Stay loyal to my best friend and boss to get this critical deal done at any cost...or give my heart another chance? But the more time I spend with Sloan O'Neill, the more I realize she's sharp, determined, funny, and kind of perfect for me. She has no idea how far I'll go to mend this rift and make her mine—but she's about to find out.
